Christmas shoppers flee armed robbers

Shots fired in raid on city centre jeweller

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

CHRISTMAS shoppers fled in terror yesterday after armed robbers fired shots and let off tear gas in thecentre:mk.

Several shots were fired at 11.42am in Leslie Davis Jewellers, near the festive display in Middleton Hall.

CS gas was let off, which spread to nearby shops and walkways, leaving people coughing and crying.

An adult and child were taken to MK Hospital suffering from the effects of the gas, while paramedics treated others at the scene.

Police believe two people entered the shop while one waited nearby.

Eyewitnesses saw them firing guns in the air as they fled the busy shopping centre. The spent cartridges found afterwards were blanks.

Joan Sidebottom, from Newport Pagnell, was outside the jewellers when it happened. "We heard loud banging and things being smashed," she said. "A woman came up to me and said 'there's an armed robbery'. Then we got a whiff of the CS gas. It chokes you. It was terrifying."

She was fund-raising for Willen Hospice on the community desk with her husband, Brian, who said: "They ran down the passageway shooting their guns in the air. I saw two of them. It was incredible."

Maria Charalambous, from Willen, was shopping in The Entertainer when someone shouted 'everybody get down'.

She said: "We heard three gun shots. The girls in the shop were screaming and everyone was panicking. My throat was really itchy and everyone started coughing. It was pretty traumatic – I was terrified when the shots went off."

The police helicopter circled overhead as the area between John Lewis and BHS was cordoned off and staff and shoppers were shepherded outside.

Michelle Peplinski said: "I saw one man hold a gun in the air. He had a scarf on his face. Someone shouted 'armed robbery'. We heard lots of shots. It was shocking."

One 75-year-old woman, who did not wish to be named, said: "I was walking past the jewellers and saw the lads firing guns. It was the most terrifying experience of my life."

A spokesman for Leslie Davis said: "Our primary concern is with the safety of our customers and staff. We're pleased to say that nobody appears to have been seriously hurt."

A spokesman for thecentre:mk said: "Shopper safety is a priority for thecentre:mk and we are working closely with police to aid their investigation."

Ten per cent of the centre was affected by the incident – the majority of the centre remained open.

Detective Chief Inspector Pete Vigurs said: "I would like to reassure the residents of Milton Keynes that incidents of this nature are rare and officers are working extremely hard to bring those responsible to justice."

Anyone with information can contact police on 0845 8 505 505, quoting URN 789 1/12, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

■ Three men have been arrested and are currently being interviewed by police.

Drunk constable drove in to work

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE

jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

A POLICE officer who turned up to work drunk has been convicted of drink driving.

PC Philippa Evans, 42, was disqualified for 20 months after colleagues arrested her at Milton Keynes Police Station on Saturday, December 6, 2008.

The neighbourhood officer from Wolverton described drink driving as her 'pet hate'.

But on that day she arrived at work dishevelled and unsteady on her feet, telling one PCSO 'I'm still pissed'.

When breathalysed, the officer of 18 years was far above the legal limit.

Pleading not guilty to driving when over the limit, she claimed had 'no idea' how she got to work that day, even though her car was parked outside.

Last week she told Aylesbury Magistrates Court: "I would never knowingly get into my car with excess alcohol."

Asked how the police would look upon this she added: "They take a very dim view because you're breaking the law. And because we're police officers we don't do that."

She would routinely keep alcohol in her locker at the police station, and in her car, and drink Strongbow cider before going on duty, the court heard.

The night before her arrest, PC Evans had been out with friends in Stony Stratford, drinking wine, cider and vodka.

She was meant to start her 8am shift by dealing with prisoners, but ended up in custody herself.

The court heard that at 8.56am, an automatic number plate recognition camera captured her car on the H5/V6 roundabout.

CCTV showed a black car entering the Witan Gate car park at 8.58am and a person walking from that car to the station.

PC Evans' fob was used to enter the gate at 08.59am.

PCSO Matthew Robinson saw her with a bunch of keys.

He said: "She said to me 'I'm still pissed'. I was quite taken aback by this comment. I offered to make her a cup of tea. She looked slightly uneasy on her feet."

Sergeant Shelley Jones said: "I could smell intoxicating liquor on her breath. I said 'Pippa, you smell strongly of drink'. She looked at me and didn't say anything."

Sergeant Fraser Chamberlain confirmed her black Hyundai car was parked outside and PC Evans was arrested.

A breathalyser showed 84 micrograms of alcohol per 100 millilitres of breath. The legal limit is 35.

She was taken to Milton Keynes Hospital and seen by a psychiatric nurse, then to the mental health unit, the Campbell Centre. She was deemed depressed and suicidal.

Rachel Sheppard, prosecuting, said: "You drank so much the night before that the next morning you were still greatly over the drink drive limit weren't you?"

"You accept that somebody must have been driving the vehicle. In fact that somebody was you, wasn't it?"

PC Evans maintained that one of her friends could have been driving her, and that she would never knowingly drink and drive. "As a police constable I realise it's against the law and it's one of my pet hates. If I was thinking straight and acting rationally there's no way I would've been driving my car."

Richard Germain, defending, argued the police's failure to check whether Ms Evans had car keys suppered the case against her.

He said to Sgt Chamberlain: "One of the first things you would do with a person who's been arrested for drink driving, and there's a potential dispute as to whether they had been driving, is check whether they had car keys. Did you do that?"

Sgt Chamberlain said: "No I didn't."

She also could have drunk alcohol after driving but before the breath test, said Mr Germain.

He asked PC Evans: "Is that unusual for you to have alcohol before going into work?"

She said: "No it's not." She had sought help from the police's occupational health team for her alcohol dependency and depression.

She had been breathalysed at work on three previous occasions, which were all negative.

But it was not until her arrest that she was signed off work.

Her doctor has now deemed her fit to return to work.

Mrs C Parry, chairman of the magistrates, was satisfied Ms Evans had driven her car to work that day.

She was ordered to pay £905 in fines and costs.

MK Hospital flu jabs junked

A BATCH of flu vaccines were destroyed at the city hospital after a fridge they were kept in broke.

Around 400 doses of the seasonal flu vaccine had to be thrown away.

A hospital spokesman said: "Niall Ferguson, chief pharmacist has reported that over a weekend a part had failed within the cold store, which led to the temperature being outside of the normal range and it was not possible to be repaired within 24 hours of the fault occurring.

"All the medicines in the cold store were assessed for ongoing stability from which a number had to be discarded, among them a batch of 'seasonal flu' vaccinations."

"Vaccines have a very strictly controlled cold storage shelf life and will only tolerate short periods at room temperature to permit transfer and administration.

"There are clear regulations on the safe storage of medicines, if these are exceeded Milton Keynes Hospital NHS Foundation Trust have a policy of destroying the affected medications."

The hospital says the doses have all now been replaced.

City revellers to get 'refuge' hut

BY JESSICA CUNIFFE
jessica.cuniffe@mk-news.co.uk

FESTIVE revellers stumbling between the Theatre District and Xscape are to be given a refuge.

As the number of club-goers surges over Christmas, a hut will provide them water, warmth, seating, phones, maps, plasters and even medical treatment.

It is the first time Milton Keynes has had such a facility, which is billed as a 'safe place for the lost, vulnerable and over-intoxicated'.

Organiser, the After8 Group, is still looking for 30 volunteers to work alongside the first-aiders from St John Ambulance and the security staff.

Situated in parking bays on the Avebury Boulevard side of the Theatre District, it will be open between 10pm and 4am on the Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays from December 10 to January 2.

Already the busiest area in the city centre in the evenings, the venues see a 25 per cent increase in visitors over the Christmas month – an additional 170,000 people.

City centre manager Kay Greenhalgh says it is more than water for drinkers and plasters for the plastered.

"It might even be for people who have become separated from their friends, or those who have lost their phone," she said.

"It's about making sure everybody's got what they need for a good time. If anything does go wrong, there's somebody there to give information and support. If they're not feeling well, there will be people on hand to help. We just want people to have a fantastic time."

The 20ft by 8ft executive cabin has been loaned by portable accommodation specialists Elliott Hire in Bleak Hall.

Volunteers should contact 01908 398135 or e-mail info@mkccm.org to get involved.

Letters to The Editor, MK NEWS, 1 Diamond Court, Fox Milne, Milton Keynes MK15 ODU | letters@mk-news.co.uk

Listing not appropriate in changing retail world

SIR – I and the team of the Shopping Management Company are proud of the shopping building and the service it provides our customers.

As one of the largest UK shopping centres, with around 30million visitors, 240 shops and restaurants and 5,000 staff, the sustainability of the shopping centre as a business is critical to Milton Keynes' success.

Despite the continuing recession, in which many retailers have struggled, I am proud that we have been able to achieve virtually 100 per cent occupancy for this Christmas.

Over the last 18 months we have invested £25m in enhancing the centre, introducing new technology, way finding, and a new restaurant quarter following customer feedback and expectations as the evening economy grows.

These enhancements have been significant in enabling us to attract new retail brands to Milton Keynes, thereby continuing employment opportunities for many hundreds of staff in the city centre.

Over the last ten years we have operated within a voluntary framework of management guidelines, consulting English Heritage and the local authority on proposals to update the centre, including the £25m enhancements.

This voluntary system protects the building's areas of special interest, such as the frame and mirrored glazing, and the building continues to be maintained at a cost of £600,000 per year.

We have remained committed to enhancing and protecting the centre's public art. For example, we have spent just under £75,000 in the last year on restoring and, where necessary, resiting public art, working with the council and the original artists in an agreed public art strategy.

Our custodianship has been recognised by awards this year including the best retail company in the Sunday Times Best Green Companies, Best Small Companies to work for and the British Institute for Facilities Management.

I understand the local interest and Urban Eden's passion to seek Grade II star listing of the shopping building.

However, I continue to contend that a listing, which would include the 2km of very functional 'non-script' service road, would not be helpful in enabling us to attract retailers in the fast and changing world of retail.

It would also affect our ability to attract investment into the city centre, thereby putting employment opportunities at risk in the future.

After all, Milton Keynes is only two thirds complete.

Robert Goodman
Centre Director

Will patients' care rely on hospital parking charges?

SIR – Milton Keynes hospital must believe the recession is over and can now introduce excessive car parking charges in the run-up to Christmas,

Not satisfied with making an estimated £150,000 in profit they have now decided to rake in more.

They say the profit is put back into patient care, it is not clear if it is ring fenced or will go into the general funding, which means it can be spent on anything – like new office furniture for the consultants or diversity training.

The hospital receives millions of pounds of taxpayers money. We are heading down a slippery slope if patient care becomes reliant on car parking charges.

It's a cynical move at Christmas when most people visit friends and relatives in hospital more often.

The extra charges may result in fewer visits for patients which has an impact on their wellbeing.

People may well ask why we are having to pay hospital parking charges in MK in the first place when other parts of the country are not and charges are being phased out.

Foundation trust hospitals are supposedly run like a business and profit-taking replaces people's welfare in regards to having visitors it seems.

I am sure the hospital will soon have ample car parking spaces available – people who cannot afford to pay these charges will be parking on all the surrounding estates, which is already a problem.

I would ask MK hospital to reverse its decision on any increases and phase out car parking charges altogether.

Eamonn Bobey
The Hide, Netherfield

Lights fantastic

SIR – Congratulations to the people of Stony Stratford for a magnificent display of Christmas lights and lantern parade.

I very much doubt if any town of it's size in Buckinghamshire could match them.

I suggest readers should go and see the lights for themselves.

Dennis Brett
Minton Close, Blakelands

Stadium race track

SIR – Where were the police as seemingly hundreds of boy racers turned the roads around the hockey stadium into a make-shift race track on Sunday night (November 29)?

I had just been to MacDonalds with my daughter, having been to the cinema, as cars raced around nearby car parks and gangs of youths stood around, intimidating everyone.

Cars blocked the road and I felt the need to lock my doors before being allowed to continue with my journey.

The local police pay lip service to the problem of anti-social behaviour and describe it as a priority on their website yet NOT ONE police officer was to be seen as these louts were allowed to take over, acting as if they ruled the road.

What are the police doing about it?

Bang out of order

SIR – On a recent trip to the MK Theatre we had seen that Chitty Chitty Bang Bang was coming to Milton Keynes.

I was looking forward to being able to book to take my children to this great family production.

It would be lovely for them to see a live version of such a wonderful story.

However when the brochure arrived I couldn't believe the price being charged – the tickets would be £34.50 each, making the treat cost over £100 for myself and the two children.

I fail to understand the pricing when Calendar Girls, with several stars in it such as Lynda Bellingham and Letitia Dean, was priced at £23.50 per seat. How can I attend that one yet deny the children the chance to see a production that I know they will love?

Why is the theatre pricing Chitty Chitty Bang Bang so highly?

This is family entertainment and presumably the idea will be to encourage children to make the theatre a part of their lives?

How can this happen when it costs so much to take them there?

What a disappointment. I'm sure we aren't the only family to feel cheated this way.

Parliamentary Hope-ful

SIR – Last Friday morning I was on a panel discussing the Grant Thornton Tax Manifesto based on the responses of 500 Finance Directors.

I was horrified by the selfishness of the views expressed by these finance directors.

It was all take, take, take.

I was so proud of the response of the 100 or so guests from the MK business community who had a chance to vote on several of these proposals and who demonstrated time after time that, like me, they disagreed with the finance directors.

I am even prouder of the Lib Dem Party which has announced our tax manifesto this week – a manifesto that will increase the basic tax allowance to £10,000 by taxing rich people more heavily, hence taking many people on low incomes out of tax altogether.

It is obscene that the richest ten per cent in this country pay less tax as a proportion of their income than the poorest ten per cent.

We are likely to have a hung Parliament within the next six months. That will mean that the Lib Dems have a chance of implementing policies from our manifesto.

If you like our policies, vote for them!

Some of the 16 illegal immigrants caught entering the UK hiding in two lorry loads of wine heading for MK

Dogs sniffs out immigrants bound for city

SIXTEEN illegal immigrants were stopped as they headed to Milton Keynes in two lorry loads of wine.

The two separate attempts to reach Bletcham Way were foiled by UK Border Agency officers in Calais last week.

On Monday, November 23, four Iranian, four Vietnamese and three Iraqi nationals were found hiding inside the soft-sided trailer of an Estonian registered lorry.

The next day five Afghan nationals were discovered in another lorry, this time Bulgarian registered, heading to the same address. On both occasions, the would-be immigrants were discovered by specialist sniffer dogs.

The illegal immigrants were then removed from the vehicle, fingerprinted, photographed, refused entry to the UK and handed over to the French authorities.

The lorries were both allowed to continue their journey to the UK, although the driver and haulage companies could now each be liable for a civil penalty of up to £2,000 per stowaway if it is found that they did not take adequate steps to secure their vehicles.

Tom Dowdall, director of Border Force European Operations, said: "Finds such as this one highlight the tenacity required by our officers to stay one step ahead of illegal immigration. This is why we have our own border checks in France to try to prevent illegal entrants even setting foot in the UK."

Radcliffe School to be run by trust

BY JESSICA CUNNIFFE
jessica.cunniffe@mk-news.co.uk

THE Radcliffe School will not become an academy.

Yesterday the Government decided the Wolverton secondary school will in fact be governed by a trust.

For months the threat of being shut and reopened under a sponsor has loomed over the once-failing school.

On Monday city MP Mark Lancaster challenged the schools secretary Ed Balls to make a decision on a school left in limbo.

Mr Balls told the House of Commons academy status is actually a 'local decision' not 'national imposition'.

But yesterday ministers decided the future of the school.

Mr Lancaster said: "I'm delighted that as a result of raising this in Parliament we've got a Government to commit to a decision at last."

Headteacher John O'Donnell said: "We feel shock and relief. Now the school can go forward."

Councillor Sandra Clark, who previously complained of being 'pressurised' by the Government into closing the school, said: "I am delighted with the news and would like to express my thanks to all parties for their help."

Dr Phyllis Starkey, whose constituency includes the school, said: "I'm pleased that the educational standards have improved and it's a credit to the headteacher, though it only happened after the government intervened. This is the sensible way forward but ministers had to consider all the options before making the final decision."

A spokesman for the Department for Children, Schools and Families said: "This school saw substantial increases in results last summer and a very encouraging Ofsted inspection. We're always clear that academies are jointly commissioned with local authorities and with their support and it's not our place to impose academies on any area."

'Serious chance' of World Cup football

MILTON Keynes has 'every chance' of hosting World Cup football in 2018, according to Pete Winkelman.

The MK Dons chairman was part of a MK 2018 consortium to travel to Wembley last week to hand over a final bid document.

Led by Cllr Sam Crooks, and bid chairman Dr Ann Limb, the team from MK were the first of 15 cities to present their application to England 2018 chairman David Triesman, selection panel chairman Brian Mawhinney and Andy Anson.

The 88-page document is centred around the Dons' stadiummk but also reveals finer details about accommodation, Fan Fests, transport infrastructure and the lasting legacy.

Mr Winkelman said: "I thought we had a really professional looking bid, the information in the bid is really good as well. We might have started out as big outsiders but as the situation has moved on I think we've got a real serious chance."

"The FA have given us a lot of direction in terms of what they wanted to see and we've got a very special city we can do things in Milton Keynes that you just can't do anywhere else."

BUDDING journalists had a surprise at their school assembly yesterday when their own work made front page news.

Children from Greenleys First School were presented with certificates for their hard work in the Smiling Inside project which aims to help schools and families in the city's disadvantaged areas.

As part of the project the children visited MK NEWS offices to learn about how a newspaper is made and also Milton Keynes College.

They were given a commemorative front page featuring pictures and reports from the children about the project.

Swine flu inquest

AN inquest has opened into the death of a five-year-old boy who had swine flu.

Charlie Kevin Callaghan, who lived at Stonemasons Close, Olney, died on Sunday, November 22 at Milton Keynes Hospital.

Coroner Rodney Corner heard that the Emberton School pupil went to school the previous Friday, November 20, but was sent home with a high temperature. On November 21 he was taken to hospital and given medication.

At 6am the following day he had a fit and an ambulance took him to A&E.

He fitted throughout the journey and was pronounced dead shortly after he arrived at 7.23am.

On November 25 a post mortem was carried out by Dr Colene Bowker, paediatric pathologist, at the John Radcliffe Hospital. The outcome of further laboratory tests are awaited.

Coroner Corner said to the grandparents, Sandra and Les Callaghan: "It seems that swine flu was definitely confirmed but the pathologist can't at the moment say exactly what the cause of death is."

A full inquest will take place on July 5, 2010.

thecentre:mk cleaning staff learning how to make balloon figures as part of their 'ringmaster' roles

Cleaners paid for clowning around

CLEANERS at thecentre:mk have a trick or two up their sleeves.

Staff have been trained at Clown School to entertain customers with balloon modelling, juggling and plate spinning this Christmas. The idea ties in with The Big Top Christmas Show in Middleton Hall.

From this week cleaning staff will be dressed ringmasters during the busiest times of the day and tour the malls performing the circus tricks.

Graduates from thecentre:mk's Clown School will entertain shoppers with a host of tricks learnt from a professional entertainer with over 15 years experience.

The intensive training session also included the basics of using a diablo and performance skills. The staff will perform in pairs; while one produces balloon models the second will entertain any waiting children... of all ages.

Jason Buckley, cleaning manager for thecentre:mk said: "The Christmas show at thecentre:mk is such a huge undertaking and all of the staff are proud of the result and how much it means to our visitors. Last year the cleaning staff dressed as train drivers to support the show theme. However, this year we wanted to go one better and given the theme of the show is a circus, Clown School seemed like an exciting idea. The cleaning staff who have taken part in the training have thoroughly enjoyed it and are very excited to get out on the malls and entertain our customers."

As well as entertaining on the mall the cleaners will be producing an 'On-line Clown School' with short videos demonstrating the tricks.

To keep up to date on the videos either sign up to be Santa's friend on Facebook (Santa Atthecentre:mk) or search for thecentre:mk channel on YouTube.

The cleaners will be in action from 12-3pm every Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Hundreds through the street at Stony Christmas Lights Switch-on & Fun-day

Lanterns set Stony alight

COMBINE Santa Claus, Beauty & The Beast, 265 children's lanterns, and thousands of coloured lights and you get a magical Christmas in Stony Stratford.

Stony Stratford's Christmas Lights Switch-on & Fun-day took place on Saturday.

The Lantern Parade hit a new record this year, with 265 bright and inventive lanterns, all hand-made by children and parents under the supervision of the team from York House Centre.

The whole event was supported by local businesses and residents as well as Stony Stratford Business Association and the town council.

Paraglider died after 30ft fall in Morocco

A PARAGLIDER from Newport Pagnell has died after falling 30 feet to the ground in Morocco.

Andrew Filler, 51, was on a week-long holiday with his wife, Alison, taking part in a paragliding course.

At 4pm on Saturday, November 14, he was flying in the Atlas Mountains outside Marrakesh when he lost control.

The self-employed electrical engineer fell to the ground and died of multiple injuries, an inquest opening heard on Friday.

The former Territorial Army soldier, who had suffered from tongue cancer, had already taken a paragliding course in Spain a year before. By the end of the week he would have qualified.

Coroner's officer Christopher Townsend said: "Control had been lost and he fell 30 feet to the ground."

"The instructor ran to his aid and found Mr Filler face down, not conscious and breathing. First aid was unsuccessful."

Mrs Filler, a furniture dealer, said it was 'such a shock', but her husband died doing what he loved.

She told the coroner: "It's a fantastic thing to watch. He was loving what he was doing."

Milton Keynes Restaurant of the Year 2009 finalists

Diners the winners

THE waiting is finally over the winner of the Milton Keynes Restaurant of the Year 2009 has been announced.

The Awards now in their third year are supported by MK NEWS, Kimbells Solicitors, MK Web and Pauley Digital.

More than 35,000 individual votes have been cast by the public by way of voting cards distributed across participating restaurants in the Milton Keynes area, as well as large numbers of on-line votes.

Judges have a wealth of expertise and experience in the food industry.

Voters have been scoring restaurants on the standard of food, service, atmosphere and value, and judges scrutinised each of these criteria when they dined at the shortlisted venues.

This year, as well as selecting an overall winner to take the title of Milton Keynes Restaurant of the Year, there are also two runners-up, an award for Best Service and Best Indian Restaurant.

Organisers said that this year all restaurants in the short list deserve credit as the competition was particularly tough.

BEST OVERALL RESTAURANT OF THE YEAR

Las Iguanas

WHEN the judges visited on a Friday evening people of all ages from eight to 80 were having a good time and the restaurant and bar were full to capacity for almost the entire evening. The diners all seemed happy and the judges felt the staff should receive credit for managing so well – from the greeter at the door right up to the manager supervising each order as it went out everyone was friendly and genuinely paid attention to the customers.

The waitress described the menu well and also answered the judges' questions fully and was happy to help. The menu has a wide range of South American-influenced dishes and includes a good selection of meat, fish and vegetarian options. The range of gluten free options was particularly important to one judge.

The judges chose a selection of taps and all were described in detail on the menu for the uninitiated. All were well presented and, more importantly, delicious.

HIGHLY COMMENDED

Betsey Wynne

A WELL-BALANCED menu including locally sourced beef and lamb together with fish and vegetarian choices with a comprehensive wine list of red, white, rose and sparkling.

HIGHLY COMMENDED

Brasserie Blanc

AN impressive welcome greeted the judges and set the tone for the rest of the evening. Staff were friendly and efficient throughout and the waitress impressed with her knowledge of the specials and menu generally, right down to recommending the warm salad with perfectly poached egg.

BEST INDIAN

Kardamom Lounge

THIS was the standout winner as the judges were impressed with the extensive menu which included a vast array of seafood. There was a friendly welcome and the staff were efficient and knowledgeable. An added bonus was the option when ordering to specify the strength of curries which were then set out in 'mild to spicy' order when served. The chef's banquet was excellent value and, with the quality of the food, set this venue apart.

BEST SERVICE

Orchid Lounge

'SAWASDEE' means welcome in Thai and that's how you feel from the moment you are greeted at the door. The judges service throughout their meal was swift, sleek and quiet – in fact they never needed to ask for anything as a waiter appeared to refill rice bowls and water glasses were never empty. At the end of the meal the service continued to excel with the staff opening the packets of hot towels. Judges said they 'could not fault the service'.

Ex-drummer's book on MK culture is a cracker

RYTHMIC writer Lee Scriven, an ex-drummer and former MK NEWS journalist could find himself with a coveted Christmas Number 1 – not in the pop charts but in the best sellers book department.

Lee's latest book – Milton Keynes: 50 Greatest Moments – looks set to be a festive cracker with hundreds of copies being sold in just three days of its release.

Waterstone's, which exclusively stocks the book was pleased to see it rivaling the publishing giants Dan Brown, Stephenie Meyer and JK Rowling.

Waterstone's manager Julie Dawes said: "We were delighted to stock Lee's book, he's a very popular local writer and the number of sales over the weekend have proved that.

Best seller: Lee Scriven's book, Milton Keynes: 50 Greatest Moments, is selling well at Waterstone's

The 350-page book gives an insight into 50 of the most memorable and, up until now, unknown, greatest moments of the city's culture.

Produced in a scrapbook style, hundreds of rare and unseen photographs have been unearthed which give a fascinating insight into Milton Keynes' short but illustrious history.

But, as Lee states, the book would not have been published without the encouragement of Waterstone's.

He said: "Let me tell you, books are not easy to put together and there are many times when you feel like knocking it on the head."

"I know I did, but what kept me going was the enthusiasm shown by Waterstone's that the book would sell. Going by the first few days, they were right."

The book is priced at £19.99.

A question of tax for local politicians

A QUESTION Time-style debate was held in the city on the subject of tax.

Leading UK tax advisers Grant Thornton held a breakfast seminar on Friday to debate the findings of their recently launched Tax Manifesto, which includes the opinions of some 500 UK finance directors.

The event was held at stadiummk with an audience made up of more than 80 local business people and chaired by Grant Thornton's tax director Mike Warburton.

With a pre-budget statement due in mid December and a general election in early 2010, the political content of the manifesto fuelled a lively debate between panelists

The panel: Jill Hope, Phyllis Starkey MP, Iain Stewart and Peter Harris

Phyllis Starkey – Labour MP MK South West, Iain Stewart – Conservative PPC MK South West and Jill Hope – Liberal Democrat PPC, North East MK

alongside the entrepreneurial voice of Peter Harris do-founder and finance director of Hotel Chocolat one of the UK's fastest growing brands.

Mr Warburton said: "We are grateful to panelists for their forthright comments and debate on our tax manifesto, particularly considering its controversial findings surrounding political responsibilities for tax in the future."

"The cross-section of local businesses voting in our seminar provided a grounded comment – sometimes in direct contrast to the finance directors polled in our manifesto."

"It is clear from the panelists that there needs to be greater transparency and trust in the setting and delivery of taxation policies, to allow businessmen and women to concentrate on developing their business to lead the country out of recession."

Cops' Christmas campaign targets drink-related rapes

'LET your hair down, not your guard' – that's the message from Thames Valley Police as the force lends its support to National Rape Awareness Week.

The national campaign which runs until Friday highlights the need for people, particularly women, to take steps to make sure they stay safe when out at night.

Hard-hitting adverts are running on Channels 4 and Five showing the impact of sexual assault and rape on victims.

The campaign is particularly focusing on how the impact of alcohol and excessive drinking features in a large number of rape cases.

Thames Valley Police will be running a campaign to support the national initiative until December 27 as part of a safety campaign during the party season and in the run up to Christmas.

Last year there were 533 rapes recorded force-wide, 106 in Bucks and 85 in MK.

So far this year (January - October) there have been 488 rapes recorded, 92 in Bucks and 82 in MK.

Detective Inspector Nick Deacon, leading the initiative, said: 'At this time of year alcohol plays a big part in people making the right or wrong choices.'

"People let their guard down and get themselves into situations which, when sober, they would not consider.

"This Christmas we want people to enjoy themselves but keep their wits about them, stay in groups and look after themselves and their friends. Also remember, if someone says no to sex, that means no.

No consent turns sex into rape."

"Thames Valley Police is committed to positively dealing with rape and other sexual crimes, bringing offenders to justice and working to raise public awareness in an attempt to reduce the number of victims.

"We have specially trained officers in place to provide a first response to victims of rape and support them through the criminal justice process."

During the campaign, adverts will be run on telephone kiosks and in bars, pubs and clubs. Posters and leaflets will be distributed through Pubwatch groups and messages will be sent out via Bluetooth and Facebook.

Mr Deacon said: "If you are going out for the evening, plan how you are going to get home. Book a taxi from a firm you trust or arrange for parents or friends to collect you. Alternate your drinks with soft drinks and don't accept drinks from strangers."

School choirs hit the right pitch at stadiummk

SCHOOL choirs are creating unique musical theatre pieces to perform at stadiummk.

Seven local primary school choirs have been given tips by teenage singers who were finalists in Choir of the Year 2008, which is broadcast on BBC Radio 3 and BBC FOUR.

The school choirs took part in creative workshops run as part of Moving on Up, a project that has been arranged by national programme Sing Up, which aims help put singing at the heart of primary school-aged children's lives.

The project will end with a showcase performance at the stadiummk ballroom on Saturday, February 27.

The schools taking part include Christ The Sower Ecumenical in Grange Farm, Green Park, Hanslope, Middleton, St Thomas Aquinas, Stanton School in Bradville and Willen Primary School.

Sunday 13th December

Festival of Christmas

at Bletchley Park

This year's Festival of Christmas will be held at Bletchley Park on Sunday 13th December, between 4pm and 7pm.

This year's Festival will combine a Christmas Market, with some festive entertainment and fayre. To date, we have 26 traders attending, to enable you to purchase that extra special Christmas gift, from hand-made cards, to home-made jams, hand-made jewellery, crystals, plant displays, gift boxes and embroidery, plus much more.

The market will be housed within the splendour of the Mansion, warm and dry with lots of atmosphere.

We have spoken with Santa who has promised to do all that he can to be there – can't think that he will have anything else to do at this time of year.

Entertainment will be provided by CK Gospel Choir, JP Jazz will bring a different impression of Christmas, together with the Diamond School of Performing Arts who will have their superb choir and maybe a modern take on the nativity.

Milton Keynes Play Association will have a range of activities for the younger ones, so that they are occupied while mum and dad shop.

There will also be some fairground rides for the children, with perhaps some candy floss.

Local Street Artists, Festive Road, will be working with local schools, helping the youngsters to make some colourful lanterns, which they will parade around the oval lawn at Bletchley Park at about 5pm on the day of the event. This was spectacular last year, despite the inclement weather (which we won't have this year – it is booked as fine)

Bletchley Park caterers, Zest catering, will keep the restaurant open for sale of Turkey rolls, mince pies and hot drinks, with mulled wine.

If you have not visited Bletchley Park recently, we urge you to put the date of the Festival of Christmas in your diary. Christmas is a magical time of year for most and this event promises to bring you all the atmosphere that is Bletchley Park, enhanced by the magical effects of Christmas.

Whether it's shopping for that special gift, joining in the carols, or just taking in the general bonhomie, we hope to see you there.

Car parking and entrance to Bletchley Park is free, after 4pm, on the day of the event.

Panto stars give MK shoppers free show

MK Theatre's Cinderella cast join in face painting and craft workshops

SHOPPERS were treated to a ball with a difference at Midsummer Place.

Stars of MK Theatre's Cinderella, which starts on Friday, entertained the public on Saturday afternoon.

Among the face painting and craft workshops stars including Bobby Davro and Anthony Kavanagh and the real Shetland ponies put in an appearance.

Joining the stars was a face familiar to this newspaper, runner up in MK's Top Talent, 16-year-old Adam Gates.

Back in October, 14-year-old singer Holly Brewer pipped Adam to the post to win this year's MK's top talent and a professional part in this year's pantomime. But panto producer Kevin Woods was so impressed with Adam's talent that he decided to write a part in for him too.

Kevin said "Adam gave a very clever, well-thought out and polished performance in MK's Top Talent and I felt that he should be given this opportunity to shine. Adam is edgy and will bring something fresh and interesting to this production of Cinderella"

Bobby Davro signs autographs after switching on the lights at Midsummer Place

Along with Holly and Adam a third contestant from MK's Top Talent will also appear on the MK Stage. Ella Austin, 9, who wowed judges with her big voice, will perform a number of shows as the alternate trainee fairy.

Cinderella starts this Friday at Milton Keynes Theatre starring Mickey Rooney, Bobby Davro, Anthea Turner, Ben Adams and Louise Dearman. ■ Make sure you book your tickets before the clock strikes midnight - call 0844 871 7652 or visit www.ambassadorstickets.com/miltonkeynes

Keep working

WOMEN are being encouraged to work beyond retirement.

Changes to the state pension mean that 6,969 women in Milton Keynes could be better off financially if they carry on earning.

The Department for Work and Pensions has calculated that by working past their state pension age, these women could be £140,000 better off throughout their retirement.

Those aged between 55 and 59 are being encouraged to follow in the footsteps of TV personalities Esther Rantzen and Anne Robinson by extending their working lives.

The Government says that nationally, 26 per cent of adults approaching retirement would consider working for longer after realising the financial benefits of delaying their retirement.

THE Warwickshire & Northamptonshire Air Ambulance which serves Milton Keynes has 60,000 reasons to be cheerful.

On Friday night, £60,140 was raised at the first Business with Pleasure Gala Dinner held at stadiummk.

Hosted by BBC Newsman Nicholas Owen and sponsored by local accountants MacIntyre Hudson, solicitors EMW Picton Howell, PR and Celebrity Management Company Loquendi aNatWest bank.

Four hundred and fifty guests first had a significant business insight from former Trade Minister and head of the CBI, Lord Digby Jones who urged businesses to trade their way out of the recession and reminded everyone that Britain is a major financial centre with banking still a major contributor to our economy.

Soap stars Antony Cotton, Katherine Kelly, Ricky Groves and Adam Woodyatt were also on the guestlist.

Former England Rugby Captain Will Carling spoke about his sporting career before comedian Steve Punt wound up the evening.

Air Ambulance chief executive Andy Williamson said "It was a very special evening with a truly spectacular result for a first time event. The Air Ambulance continually needs more help to raise the £1.6 million required each year to operate the service"

Wolverton pool plans go on view

RESIDENTS are being invited to have their say about three possible options for an indoor swimming pool in Wolverton.

The public are being asked to comment on the proposals to bring a new pool to the town, hopefully by 2012.

Two sites are being looked at - one on land provided by Radcliffe School, off Stratford Road, where a new pool could be built, or to either build a new pool or upgrade and cover the outdoor pool in Aylesbury Street West, Wolverton.

Cllr Vanessa McPake, responsible for leisure, said: "This is a real step forwards for Wolverton getting nearer to achieving a fantastic new indoor swimming provision."

The pool options will be on display in Wolverton library and the town council lobby area until December 11.

The display will be staffed on Thursday, December 3, from 10am-12pm, Tuesday, December 8, 5-7pm and Wednesday, December 9, 2-4pm.

Comments from the consultation will be presented to MK Council cabinet in January.

■ The questionnaire to fill out your comments about the plans can be completed at www.milton-keynes.gov.uk/leisure_facilities

Bulldozers set to demolish stadium

DEMOLITION of the hockey stadium starts this month.

The sports facility will be razed to the ground in mid-December as Milton Keynes Partnership clears the way for Network Rail's new national centre.

Meanwhile, fixtures and fittings, including seats, carpets and even toilets, have been dished out to sports clubs.

Milton Keynes Hockey Club at Woughton on the Green, Bletchley Town Football Club and Arabian Gymnastics have all received furniture and equipment.

Some of the seats and turnstiles have also been claimed by hockey clubs as far afield as East Grinstead and Cannock.

John Lewis, chief executive of Milton Keynes Partnership, said: "Instead of this equipment being lost as part of the stadium demolition we wanted to ensure that much of it would stay in Milton Keynes and help local sports clubs to enjoy better facilities. It has been a challenging project to manage but it's good to see that the stadium will still leave a legacy locally."

Mark Ling, chairman of Milton Keynes Hockey Club, said: "While it is sad to see the National Hockey Stadium be prepared for demolition it will create a fantastic site for Network Rail and bring much-needed employment to Milton Keynes. What is also fantastic is that many items from the stadium are being recycled and used by local sports clubs throughout the country.

"I am grateful for the support of the Milton Keynes Partnership regeneration team in making this happen."

Win £25 of quality meat from Parkland Produce

MK NEWS has teamed up with The Parks Trust to offer readers the chance to win a selection of Parkland Produce, delicious cuts of top quality lamb and beef, all locally reared on parkland and meadows in and around the city.

Parkland Produce is an exciting new venture set up by The Parks Trust, the charity responsible for caring for Milton Keynes' parks and green spaces.

The Trust's grazing animals are used to sensitively manage its meadows in order to encourage a greater diversity of wildflowers and wildlife.

The meat is not only reared locally but also butchered in Milton Keynes and has a very clear provenance at all stages.

It can be purchased on-line at www.parklandproduce.co.uk in convenient chilled boxes of different sizes or an individual box can be tailored to suit personal choice.

All boxes of meat are hand delivered to local residents and businesses in Milton Keynes.

All profits from the sale of Parkland Produce will be invested back into maintaining the city's beautiful and valued parks and landscapes, whether Best beef and lamb comes from animals reared on city parkland and meadows

David Foster, chief executive of The Parks Trust said: "Our cattle graze around 700 acres of land, including the Ouse and Ousel Valley, Shenley Toot, Woughton-On-the-Green and Campbell Park.

"As all the profit we make will be invested into caring for our parks we hope Parkland Produce will attract customers who value quality food and share a concern for the environment."

MK NEWS has ten £25 vouchers to give away as an early Christmas present for our readers.

New Brook sex clinic makes the difference

THE former Sainsbury's store in Central Milton Keynes is to become a sexual health clinic.

Brook, the charity which provides information and advice on contraception and sexual health to young people, will open in the new year.

Campaigners on Facebook had earmarked the site for a clothing shop, creating the group 'Let's make the empty Sainsbury's in Milton Keynes into a huge Primark'.

However, the 5,000 square foot site was given to the Community Foundation by Milton Keynes Partnership.

Julia Upton, chief executive of the Community Foundation, said: "This is an extraordinary and very exciting new initiative which the Foundation has been working on for a number of years.

"It is really important that the voluntary and community sector has a stake in the city centre so that it can actively contribute to creating a vibrant and well-supported community.

"The Foundation is committed to securing affordable accommodation to meet the needs of today and those in the future."

Other Community Foundation properties include Acorn House, newly leased food bank storage warehouse at Kiln Farm, Age

The Community Foundation team, front, with Brook contractors

Concern at Peartree Bridge and the purpose-built SNAP premises at Walnut Tree.

John Lewis, chief executive of Milton Keynes Partnership, said: "From the start of this development we wanted to ensure that the voluntary and community sector would have a presence in Central Milton Keynes.

"It is great news that the Community Foundation's new building will enable Brook Milton Keynes to provide an essential service for young people in the heart of the city."

Primark fans disappointed as ex-Sainsbury's store is given to the Community Foundation

Agents hit a hat-trick of awards

IT was a hat trick of gold awards for Countrywide at this year's Negotiator awards.

Countrywide group, which include leading local agents Taylors and Wilson Peacock, swept the board at the award ceremony held on November 11 at the Hilton Park Lane Hotel in London.

There was stiff competition at the event hosted by TV magician and comedian Paul Zenon which saw Countrywide winning gold in three of the top categories including:

- National Estate Agency chain of the year.
- National Letting Agency of the year
- Best Land and New Homes Agent.

It is a second year in a row for Land and New Homes Countrywide having won the award for best Land and New Homes Agent at last year's event.

Grenville Turner, Countrywide chief executive said: "This year has been challenging for the property industry. Winning these awards is down to all the hard work being done in the branches and support teams up and down the country and the excellent customer service our staff continue to provide to customers."

Children benefit from fun week of fund-raising

A BLETCHLEY optician has done its bit for Children in Need.

Specsavers on Queensway, Bletchley, hosted a week of fund-raising fun, with activities ranging from a book sale, to a guess the weight of the cake competition and a raffle with luxury prizes on offer.

Brenda Springall, organiser of the event, said: "We would like to thank all of our customers who came on down and joined in the fun for such a great cause. We would also like to thank all of our neighbours on the high street for all of their kind donations to the raffle prizes, and to all of the staff here at Specsavers, who without this wouldn't have been such a great success"

MKNEWS BRIEFS

Cash for community groups

COMMUNITY groups in Milton Keynes are being invited to apply for funding at the launch of a new community support scheme in the town.

The scheme, organised by business telecoms firm Unicom, aims to reward groups from across Milton Keynes which help local people.

Unicom operations director, Chris Earle, said: "Unicom is keen to play its part in recognising and rewarding some of the fantastic community groups and organisations which provide invaluable services and improve the quality of life for Milton Keynes people.

"Many of the groups in this area are taken for granted with people working tirelessly behind the scenes to raise money to fund their activities. However, at times corporate support is vital to ensure these invaluable groups can maintain their presence in our town."

Unicom is based on Witan Gate and provides telecoms services to local businesses. Established in 1998, the company has helped nearly 300,000 businesses save a total of £500million off their utilities bills.

Community groups wishing to apply for funding can fill out an application form online at www.switchingon.com/communitysupport

AS virus fear spreads the UK looks set to lose 36million sick days to colds and flu

But are the people of Milton Keynes doing enough to help themselves?

The British economy seems likely to be hit hard by the nation's current concerns over cold and flu viruses. A recent survey by probiotic experts Yakult revealed that 68 per cent of the working population are concerned about catching a cold or flu over the coming winter months which could equate to 36 million days taken in sick leave.

However, it appears that many of those expressing such concerns in the Milton Keynes area are failing to take simple measures to prevent picking up a cold.

Fortytwo per cent of people in the region stated that they felt catching a cold was 'just an inevitability' and so took no measures to protect themselves against it.

Global footy on-line

A GLOBAL football website has been launched Milton Keynes company Dunsar Media Company Limited.

The new www.insideworldfootball.biz is a 24/7 news-driven website dedicated to the politics and business behind world football, focussing in the first year on the FIFA World Cup bid process.

Publisher Duncan Mackay is an award-winning sports journalist who has already created the world's leading source of independent news and information about the Olympic and Paralympic Movement, insidethegames.biz. Both insidethgames and insideworldfootball have websites designed by Kiln Farm based creative and digital agency Tregartha Dinnie so the entire business plan is driven by local talent.

Dunsar Media Company Limited Commercial Director Sarah Bowron said: "Insidethgames is recognised as the leading authoritative independent website of its kind in the world. We are the only website of our type that requires no payment at all from its subscribers and readers as all content is free to view. We already have advance subscribers for insideworldfootball from members of the FA, FIFA and many world football organisations, leading decision-makers and influential opinionformers from around the world. It really is very exciting."

The company already has its next development stage finalised. Tomorrow it will go live with insideworldparaport.biz, with the world's only sports news website dedicated to global paraport, including the world Paralympic Movement.

MURDER MY HEART

Michael Bolton
I WAS only talking about Lady GaGa last week and here she is again.

Not disguised as Michael Bolton obviously, well, I say obviously but quite honestly if anybody's going to turn up to a press conference dressed as Michael Bolton without actually being him it would be Lady GaGa.

No, what she's done is write his new single and then warble a bit in the background, which was a generous gesture on her part.

It's just a shame the song's a bit of a non-event, in fact it's that bland the Backstreet Boys could've done it instead.

Michael Bolton used to have big hair and somehow his singing voice sounds as though it also has big hair, though such a thing is physically impossible (although if anybody could make it possible etc, etc), even now that the man himself

EGO

The Saturdays

OH, well, this is... basic. Take the beat, for example. It sounds as though somebody switched on a drum machine, left it on setting 1 and thought, 'Yeah, whatever, that'll do'.

The rest of the tune is almost as straightforward as that, to the point where they choose Regulation Pop Song Ending 2 (Option 1, of course, being repeat chorus to fade), which is to do the chorus twice and then end the song with a sudden stop and the name of the single echoing off into the distance.

This isn't terrible, but it's not great either.

is shorn of his locks.

He certainly gives it everything he's got, but he's up against a sad rump of a song here and no mistake.

Some songwriters are generous and give away some great songs to other people, but it doesn't sound as though Lady GaGa was feeling overly charitable on the day she wrote this.

If I didn't know better, I'd have guessed this had been written in the late 90s when this brand of middle-of-the-road pop was in vogue.

Not good, not good at all.

If the Saturdays are ever to have a Number One single (and let's face it, if they can't even do it with a Comic Relief single then they really have got issues) then they need to release a much more attention-grabbing single than this.

THE NOUGHTIES – A REVIEW

PART TWO 2003-05

Over the next few weeks, I'm going to briefly look back over the past decade in the music business as I saw it happen – well, it's either that or watch the telly.

SO, where were we? Oh yes, that's right, 2002.

See, what I forgot to mention last week was that singles sales were dropping, almost to the point where if you brought a single and got your family to buy it, even that meagre number of sales had a chance of reaching the Top 40, and over this part of the decade that situation only got worse.

Here we are in 2003 then, and this was the year that Our Price finally gave up the ghost and went under after several years of not being very good at all.

Shame really, in the late 80s and early 90s it was THE place to go for music in Milton Keynes, but it was going downhill long before HMV moved in and really, by the end it was a mercy killing.

It wasn't alone, though, Andy's Records also went to the High Street in the sky.

And then there was the humble cassette format.

I never liked cassettes myself, but even I was surprised at just how fast they died out.

It was like there was a race going on between them and MiniDiscs to see who could become obsolete first.

Singles sales dropping, physical formats expiring, sounds like it's time to bring the digital download into the chart, doesn't it? Indeed, but the Official Charts Company took their time about it.

They ran some test charts during 2004, launched the official Download Chart in September of that year and finally allowed them into the proper chart in April 2005, albeit with caveats.

The record shops didn't want gaps on the walls, so each download had to have a physical equivalent to qualify, a rule that Gorillaz followed almost to the letter (they released just 300 copies of Feel Good Inc and then relied on downloads for weeks afterwards – hats off).

The upside of all this was that singles finally started climbing the chart again, a totally alien concept for a lot of kids I should think.

YouTube launched in 2005, simultaneously giving bands a new outlet for their latest videos and the PRS something new to pick up royalties from. Top Of The Pops got shifted to BBC Two, with the BBC probably saying something about 'remaining fully committed to the long-term future of the programme', and Sony's latest CD copy protection tactics went a bit wrong, to put it mildly.

Finally, my favourite songs of each year – Johnny Cash's Hurt won 2003 (even though I didn't explicitly say so at the time, oops), Franz Ferdinand's Take Me Out claimed 2004 and Lemon Jelly's The Shouty Track took the 2005 honours.

■ Next week, 2006-08. Chasing Cars. Oh, the horrors that await us.

SPICE GRILL

182a Queensway, Bletchley
01908 377 704
www.spicegrillrestaurant.co.uk

Reviewed by Laura Hannam

SPICE Grill offers a tantalising menu inspired by a wide variety of Eastern cuisines.

The restaurant, in the heart of Bletchley, focuses on providing high quality dishes combining the creativity of food from East Africa, the Middle East, Indian subcontinent and Asia.

It is owned and run by 22-year-old Shorif Uddin.

Our experience began with popadoms and a variety of dips. We then ordered a Grill Mix to start, shared between two.

This included a mix of chicken tikka, sheek kebab, prawns covered in pastry with sweet and sour sauce and onion bhajee (£7.95).

The selection was all well cooked and is perfect if you cannot decide on just one starter.

For the main course, with the advice of Mr Uddin, I tried the Gosh Curry-Wala (£6.95), lamb cooked with fried onions, capicum, tomato and spices.

This mild dish was fragrant and delicious. I would highly recommend it.

My guest ordered the Kati Jalfrezi (£6.75) with duck breast cooked in hot spices with green chilli, ginger and herbs.

He said the duck was tender and it was refreshingly different to try it cooked in this way.

Our meal was accompanied with basmati rice fried with green chilli and onion (£2.25), naan bread stuffed with almonds and raisins (£2.25) and Bombay aloo (£2.75), potatoes tossed with cumin, ginger and spices.

It was finished with ice cream desserts (£2.95).

All of the dishes were well presented in a modern fashion and there was no overpowering flavours; all were balanced perfectly.

The restaurant offers a service for events such as birthdays and now holds Banquet Nights on Sunday's and Thursday's including a four course meal followed by a coffee for £8.95 per person, or £4.95 for children under 10. Plus late-night diners can have a 50 per cent discount on their food bill from 10pm until 11pm from Sunday to Thursday.

For those who prefer a night in, there is also a takeaway service, with 25 per cent off your first order.

Advertorial

Countrywide Estate Agents are holding the UK's largest Open House weekend on 5th and 6th December.

The lack of new properties coming onto the market has increased the demand for those that are available. Viewings across the UK have increased by 30 percent in October in comparison to the same period last year, according to Countrywide Estate Agents.

Leading local agent Taylors, have seen a significant increase in the number of people registering for viewings, as buyers are still actively looking for their ideal home with many snapping up those bargain properties in the run up to the end of the year.

Taylors, part of the Countrywide Group operate 11 branches throughout Milton Keynes and so far have 72 properties from their offices taking part in the event.

Commenting on the Open House weekend, Matthew Giggs, Estate Agency Regional Director said:

"House hunting can be an extremely time-consuming activity, the open house weekend will provide buyers with the opportunity to see a number of properties in one weekend without having to stick to a specific time frame. It also enables the seller to open their doors fully for the weekend to potential buyers without it staggering over the working week."

Over 1.4 million leaflets will be distributed to potential buyers and early indications show that buyers are eager to view the variety of properties that are available.

Those looking to view properties will need to contact their local agents and they will be supplied with a unique password which will enable them access to the property.

To coincide with the Open House weekend, Countrywide Mortgage Services are launching an exclusive 85 percent three year fixed rate mortgage deal which will enable many buyers to access the property market. To find out more about what mortgage options are available to you, please contact your local mortgage consultant in any of the Taylors offices or simply pop into your local branch and speak to one of our qualified Mortgage Consultants who offer their advice for Free.

Julian Stratton, Financial Services Regional Manager adds;

"It is not too late to add your home to the list of properties taking part in the event. Opening up your doors for one weekend could determine how quickly you sell your property."

Pop in or contact your nearest branch today!
Dont miss out!

Comeback kids set to face Burnley

MK DONS 4

Baldock 35, 70, Devaney 75, Easter 86

EXETER CITY 3

Corr 49, 54, Stansfield 67

PREMIER League outfit Burnley await MK Dons in the Third Round of the cup after they past Exeter City in a thriller.

The Dons, who had been leading 1-0 at half-time through Sam Baldock's 35th minute strike, were forced to fight their way back from 3-1 down.

Barry Corr beat the Dons' suspect defence twice in five minutes before sub Adam Stansfield extended the lead.

With pressure coming from home support the Dons went to Plan B with the introduction of Martin Devaney and Jermaine Easter.

Gueret's long punt down field was headed down into the box by Wilbraham and Baldock chipped the sprawling Marriott.

Exeter levelled after the break when Corr, right under Gueret's nose, planted a thumping header into the net.

Five minutes later the Dons' back line had been torn wide open as Corr bundled an effort goal bound, Gueret tried to push the ball against the bar, but it had already crossed the line.

However, two Exeter substitutes were to add to their misery as Troy Archibald-Henville played in Adam Stansfield.

But Easter and Devaney changed the game in the Dons' favour.

Striker Easter got a flick-on as Baldock poked the ball home in a crowded box before Devaney dragged the Dons level with his first touch – a header.

Then Devaney and Easter combined to complete a spirited come-back.

Devaney's pace down the right had Exeter beaten and his inch perfect cross was netted by Easter's strong header.

MK DONS: Gueret, Lewington (c), McCracken, Gleeson, Wilbraham (Easter 67), Baldock, Woodards (Woodards 86), Puncheon, Leven (Devaney 74), Powell, Chadwick. Booked: Devaney, Easter

EXETER CITY: Marriott, Duffy (Archibald-Henville 66), Russell, Seabourne, Taylor (c), Harley, Golbourne, Corr (Dunne 77), Cozic, Stewart, Fleetwood (Stansfield 64). Booked: Russell
Referee: Keith Stroud (Hampshire)

Martin Devaney puts a cross in against Millwall last night

before a shot could be fired.

Dons continued to live life dangerously and were fortunate not to be a goal behind when Martin Devaney appeared to clear Frampton's header off the line with his hand.

But it was only a brief reprieve, with 11 minutes on the clock Millwall succeeded in finding the early break through when Frampton was able to find room in the box to nod in Alan Dunne's cross from the right flank.

Nine minutes later the Lions extended their lead all too easily as a quickly taken free-kick allowed Schofield to fire a shot at the body of Gueret, yet the ball was crossed low for Hackett to turn in.

A disgruntled travelling contingent voiced their thoughts on the match so far, possibly in the hope that it might inspire some spirit just as it did in the FA Cup against Exeter.

Yet, Millwall were the side who were continuing to create any chances. A vital sliding clearance, that had to be timed to perfection, by McCracken saved the Dons from falling further behind when Jimmy Abdou latched onto Morison's through ball.

Morison then had a decent chance himself when a quick one-two at the left of the box dragged Dons' defence out of position and the forward was able to find the space to shoot inches wide.

Strong words must have been said in the changing room at half-time as Easter, who picked up his fifth booking and now misses the Yeovil match, pulled a goal back within 20 seconds of the restart.

The striker, who came off the bench and scored the winner against Exeter, picked up the ball 40-yards out, brushed past Dunne as he cut into the box and picked out the bottom corner.

Lions' back line were kept much busier by the Dons with McCracken unfortunate to find himself rooted to the spot and unable to turn home Puncheon's low drilled effort, while goalie David Forde was called into a comfortable save from a Devaney

Plenty of ins and outs on the loan front

THERE was plenty of loan activity at MK Dons last week.

Midfielder Richie Partridge and defender Sol Davis, who both joined in the summer, were sent to Kettering and went straight into the side that held Leeds to a 1-1 draw in the FA Cup.

Striker Jabo Ibehre joined League One rivals Southend United on a month long deal.

Ibehre, who signed from Walsall in the summer, will be at Roots Hall until December, 23. He will return to stadiummk for the Boxing Day clash with Stockport County.

Danny Swailes moved up the M1 to Northampton Town as he continues to search for first team football.

Meanwhile Barnsley's Martin Devaney extended his stay in Milton Keynes until December, 29 and forward Dean Morgan has had his short-term deal extended.

Ladies through to Third Round of FA Cup

MK Dons Ladies followed in the footsteps of the men and marched into the Third Round of the FA Cup.

The Dons have booked their spot in the next round of the Women's FA Cup where they will face either Norwich City or Chesham United.

The Ladies beat their Northampton rivals 2-0 at Willen Road. After dominating the game the Dons found the break through on the 61st minute thanks to Moran's header. Seven minutes later the Dons doubled their lead when Rosie Thurston's free-kick set up Lauren Goodier.

Their Third Round match will be played on Sunday, December 13.

The Ladies are back in league action on Sunday against Cambridge United Women. Kick-off at Willen Road is 3pm.

Wilbraham on best goal short-list

AARON Wilbraham has been short-listed for the Johnstone's Paint Trophy goal of the round competition.

The Dons striker scored a spectacular volley, demonstrating sublime control against Northampton Town in the area quarter final. And the goal has now been short-listed for the JPT Ultimate Finish award.

Supporters can log on to www.johnstonespaintrophy.com to vote Wilbraham's effort the best of the selection.

COMING UP

YEOVIL TOWN

League One
Saturday, December 5
stadiummk KO 3pm

THE action returns to stadiummk this weekend and the Armed Forces will be in attendance.

It is hoped the Dons' Help for Heroes day will draw in the crowds as the team look to put to bed a disappointing November.

With a hectic December on the cards Paul Ince will be looking to get as many points on the board to keep up with the play-off pack.

And Yeovil visit with a poor record on the road having won just once in the league this season.

They have suffered five defeats and drawn just three.

Yeovil will have Jean Kalala available once again after serving his one-match ban following his dismissal on Saturday against Gillingham.

Dons Nigel Quashie holds off a Millwall defender strike. Just like the Dons in the first half, Millwall found moments in front of goal rare yet when an opportunity did arise they were able to test Gueret.

But Gueret was alert to turn away a decent attempt by Morison who struck from 18-yards.

With Gueret looking more confident between the sticks the Dons were able to push forward to find an equaliser - which came ten minutes from time.

Aaron Wilbraham and Paul Robinson both fought for the same ball and it fell loose to Easter who, stood at the left corner of the box, took one look before sweetly curling his strike into the top corner.

But Millwall were to have the final say with Morison turning McCracken in the final minute to net the winner.

Leaders in sight

ICE HOCKEY

MAXIMUM points at the weekend has kept MK Lightning within four points of EPL leaders Manchester Phoenix.

Lightning will have the chance to eat into their lead at the top when they travel to Manchester this weekend.

Although Nick Poole's men will go into the game on the back of victories over Sheffield Scimitars and Romford Raiders they have not yet managed to beat Manchester.

Lightning's winning strike against the Scimitars came 13 minutes from time. Sheffield took the lead in the game on 6.36 before Adam Radmall levelled the scores on 14.46.

However the scores were equal for less than a minute as Haywood bagged his second to reinstate the Scimitar's one goal advantage.

The end of the first period came at the right time for Lightning as they rallied at the break and came back fighting.

Within two minutes of the re-start Micheal Wales had once again squared the scores.

Both sides found it difficult to edge ahead but Lightning eventually found a break through.

Michael Farn's strike on 47.15 put Lightning in front for the first time in the match and it was a lead they kept.

The following day Lightning travelled to Romford Raiders - the journey appeared to take a little out of the side in a scoreless first period.

Adam Carr was the first to open the scoring on 24.22, assisted by Michael Wales and Nick Poole.

Then on the half-hour Raiders were level thanks to Mikko Silvennonen.

The second period ended at one apiece, only for Lightning to turn on the style in the final 20 minutes.

First Leigh Jamieson put MK back ahead before Andre Smulter doubled the lead.

And MK continued to fire on all fronts with Smulter netting a second and third with Ross Bowers completing the scoring for Lightning.

Romford's Jason Buckman managed to grab a late consolation.

Meanwhile, Lightning's midweek games against Sheffield Sharks and Basingstoke Bison have been postponed.

■ LIGHTNING are at home to Slough Jets on Saturday, face-off is at 7pm. On Sunday they have a tough game against Manchester Phoenix, face-off is at 5.30pm.

Olney 6

OLNEY suffered travel sickness as their long bus journey to Oakmedians ended in a 12-6 defeat.

Oakmedians, third in the table, were too strong for Olney who suffered their sixth loss of the season.

The Olney side could only reply to Oakmedians' 12 points with two penalty kicks from the boot of James Hawken.

With two home matches on the horizon Olney will be looking to build on their 10th place.

Marlow 16

Bletchley 10

BLETCHLEY lost by six points to Marlow in a game that included three yellow cards and one red.

Bletchley led through Phil Harman's penalty before the game boiled over.

Bletchley, who already had a man in the sin bin, lost another to a yellow card while Marlow's saw red.

A third Bletchley player received a yellow card for an infringement and Marlow carried a 6-3 advantage.

After the break Marlow scored two tries to increase their lead to 16-3.

Ali Lowther dived over in the corner with Harman's converting, but it was not enough.

Southern Counties North

Milton Keynes 34

THERE was an early exchange of penalties, with two from Phil Powell, before Dan Pearson crossed to give MK a 11-3 lead at half time.

Disappointed with their first half rewards MK stepped up the pressure with a try from Gareth Davis. Four minutes later Powell pinged a penalty kick to push the score to 19-3.

Hooker Bill Cushway, Mad Jensen and Mike Deans all went on to cross the line to extend their advantage.

The scoreline could have been heavier had the conversions been kicked.

Tennis at night

THE Lawn Tennis Association (LTA) has invested over £11,000 into Wolverton Tennis Club towards the installation of new floodlights for one of their outside tennis courts.

The two-month long project began in October and is set for completion this month. It has received the funding to help the club boost participation as part of the sport's drive to get more people playing tennis.

For the members, it will mean a re-vamp of tennis over the next few months, with social tennis, squad practice and junior coaching now having the facilities to continue right through the winter.

Gymnasts' cash

MILTON Keynes gymnastics team SNUGS, the Special Needs Unit Gymnasts, have received a donation of £590 from The Lions Club of Bletchley.

"We are most grateful to the Bletchley Lions for their loyal support over several years" said SNUGS chairman Jeremy Eddon.

The SNUGS are a group of young people with physical, sensory and learning disabilities such as cerebral palsy and Down's Syndrome who have an aptitude and enthusiasm for gymnastics and trampolining.

Lights out at Stony

A POWER cut put an end to Stony Stratford Town's football at the weekend.

Stony were playing host to Amphil Town when the lights went out at Ostler's Lane which called an end to their Molten Spartan South Midlands division one fixture.

Elsewhere New Bradwell St Peter won 2-0 on their travels to Cockfosters, and Buckingham Athletic beat Brache Sparta Community 4-0.

In division two Mursley United beat Old Bradwell United 4-1 and Bletchley Town went down 4-0 at Bucks Student Union.

In the United Counties Premier League Newport Pagnell Town completed a double over Rothwell Corinthians with a narrow 2-1 win.

After a goalless first half Jordan Spruce made the breakthrough for Newport ten minutes after the restart.

Darren Lynch's 16th goal of the season after 70 minutes left the Swans well in control.

Sam Johnson replied for Corinth five minutes from time.

MK Lions hold a slim advantage over the Cheshire Jets after beating them 88-84 in the first leg of their BBL Cup semi-final.

It should have been a greater lead as Lions held 20 points over their opponents, but the Jets fought back to stay in touch.

The Jets led early on at 2-6, but Harrison scored seven consecutive points for the Lions and gave them a 13-10 lead.

The teams exchanged baskets until a 9-2 burst from the Lions saw them up 26-18 after Dawud Morris's three-pointer and a layup from Yorick Williams. The Lions took that momentum into the second stanza, which they won 31-18 to lead by 59-38 at the break.

However, the Jets emerged from the locker room with an immediate surge. They started the third period with an 18-1 run, holding the Lions to that one solitary point in the first seven minutes. The Lions recovered to 69-58.

The Jets got as close as 79-77 in the fourth quarter after a 10-4 burst which included triples for Myers and Paul Peterson. Williams kept the Jets at bay with six straight points for the Lions. Twice more the Jets were back to within two but the Lions held them off with Morris and Holmes holding their nerve from the free-throw line within the final minute.

Lions face a trip to Cheshire for the second-leg this Sunday.

Unfortunately, Lions could not maintain their winning streak and slipped to only their second defeat in 13 games.

Guilford Heat were able to continue their 100 per cent home record with a 93-82 victory.

■ LIONS' BBL Cup semi-final second leg is on Sunday, tip-off 5.30pm.

VINCE'S VIEW

Head coach and owner of MK Lions, Vince Macaulay writes for MK NEWS

WELL we're half way there and exactly where we want to be.

In the BBL Cup semi-final we won the first leg by four points so a win in the second leg and we're into our second BBL Cup Final in three years.

We are keen to be a consistent club and achievements like that are what will take us there.

The fans were tremendous in a tough game, we are putting a bus on and would urge fans to buy online, at just £20 for the travel and the game tickets, and we would like to have a big presence in Chester to urge us on.

Dru Spinks has been back in practice as has Irmantas, so it looks like we will have a full line up on Sunday for the game.

Two is the number, that is the number of games left at Bletchley Leisure Centre before we move to the centre:mk.

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has ever worked at Bletchley for assisting us in growing as a club. Two people have been there from day one, Bob the technician and Julia at reception, but everyone has helped in some way to forge the character of the Lions and I thank them one and all.

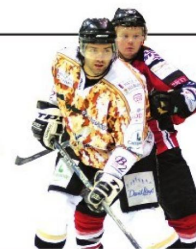

Moving on to Middleton Hall, we are going to need an increase in volunteers, so if you're out there and would like to assist us in some way please get in touch, email me directly we would love you to join the pride of Lions, vince@mkions.com.

Amir Khan tries to get it done this weekend, so let's hope we can follow a great performance from him with one ourselves in the Cup, in the mean time do come down and watch us at the next home game on December, 13.

For now I leave you with this week's nugget: "Some things need to be believed to be seen."

Dons host Help for Heroes day this Saturday

THERE will be plenty of heroes at stadiummk on Saturday and it's not the MK Dons players.

MK Dons are hosting a special Help For Heroes day, on the day they host Yeovil Town, as part of midfielder Peter Leven's quest to raise awareness and funds for the armed forces.

The club have invited personnel from local military bases, members of the Royal British Legion, ex-servicemen's clubs and RAFA and Naval clubs.

As well as bucket collections and sales of the Help For Heroes wrist bands, there will also be a parade at half-time.

Earlier this season Leven announced he would donate £5 for every Dons goal scored and donations have also been made by fellow professionals, fans and colleagues to takes the Scotman's tally to over £2,000.

Every penny raised on Saturday will be added to Leven's fund.

He told MK NEWS: "We're trying to raise as much money as possible so we've invited the troops down and we'll give them a good round of applause for what they've achieved and done."

"It's all about us getting three points and raising money for the British soldiers. I think the public owe the soldiers a lot and it would be great to show our support."

"You see them on the news playing football in the desert. Football's a big part of everybody's life so hopefully we can get all the troops to become Dons fans. When they come out of the army they can come and watch MK Dons - I'll give them tickets."

There certainly has not been a lack of drama at stadiummk recently with 14 goals in two games, but having conceded seven of them there has been growing grumbles from the stands.

He said: "I'm a fan myself as well and if a team aren't performing they're going to let it be known. At the end of the day I think they're one of the best sets of fans to play in front of."

MILLWALL 3

MK DONS 2

Easter 46, 80

BY SIMONE CORGAN

MILLWALL netted a 90th minute winner to send MK Dons to their fourth successive League One defeat.

The Dons looked to have rescued a point last night through Jermaine Easter's second-half brace, only for Steve Morison to break their hearts with a simple tap-in in the final moments to hand Millwall a 3-2 win.

Millwall outplayed the Dons in the first half and fully deserved their two goal cushion that came thanks to goals from Andy Frampton and Chris Hackett.

However, the Dons have become used to fight backs of late and Easter, who spent time on loan with the Lions last season, made honours even.

It proved to be a costly defeat as the Dons slipped out of the play-off places and into ninth place in the table.

An early chance came for the Dons when Sam Baldock rose with a stronger header onto Jason Puncheon's free-kick inside the second minute, but it was always rising over the bar.

And that was about as good as it got for Paul Ince's men in the first-half as Millwall went on to dominate and limit the Dons' sight at goal.

Moments later Puncheon put pressure on his own 'keeper with a heavy ball back which forced Willy Guerret out of his area to clear. Chris Martin took a quick throw in but Danny Schofield's cross was cut out by David McCracken
